Have your say

Join the student panel and help us improve the student experience!

We are interested in hearing your suggestions on how to make City Lit even better than it is. Help us to improve the student experience, join the student panel!

What does the panel do?

The panel meets to discuss topics and projects and help guide decision making.

The main purpose of the student panel is to help City Lit improve the quality of our courses, college spaces, how we communicate with students and the service that we offer.

What do you expect from panel members?

- Attend all student panel meetings.
- Be prepared to discuss their experience of City Lit at the panel meetings and take part in activities.
- Act as ambassadors for City Lit and talk about their experience as a City Lit student at events such as fundraisers or in interviews.

Meeting dates in 2019/20:

Induction meeting for new members:

Who attends the panel meetings?

There are up to 20 students on the panel. Meetings are also attended by:

- the Vice Principal,
- the Student Experience Manager,
- the Quality Manager,
- and other college staff depending on what we are discussing.

You can read notes from past meetings and the Terms of Reference online at www.citylit.ac.uk/studentpanel.

Is there any training for new panel members?

New panel members will be invited to an induction meeting where you will learn about City Lit's history, future aims and strategies.

How will I benefit?

You will improve your communication and leadership skills and make a positive contribution to developing and improving adult learning within an exciting community. All panel members will receive an £85 City Lit credit after they have attended each meeting.

How can I become a panel member?

If you would like to join the panel, you need to fill out a short questionnaire. Complete the questionnaire online or ask for one at reception or from the Student Centre. Please send your completed form to studentpanel@citylit.ac.uk or returned it to reception.

Deadline for applications is the end of the day on Sunday 24th November 2019.

Based on the questionnaire, we will invite a shortlist of students to an interview in early December 2019. We try to ensure that the panel is made up of a variety of students from diverse backgrounds and studying different courses. All students must have non-discriminatory views, be committed to equality and diversity and be able to discuss their opinions while respecting those of others.
